

Stolen Tractor Parts

Request

Alright, listen up. Some genius stole a bunch of Tractor Parts from the collective farm, and now they're panicking because harvest season's around the corner, and the parts somehow ended up on our station. Your job is to quietly return the parts before anyone notices they're missing. The trick? Get them back fast enough, or they'll think you're the one who nicked 'em in the first place. Get it done, and you'll pocket #Reward# and avoid getting your name added to the list for "voluntary labor."

Response

Good job! You managed to return the parts without raising any eyebrows. The farm's up and running again, and you're in the clear. Here's your reward—enough to keep you off the radar for a while. Now go celebrate by not stealing anything.

Effects

Cheaper food on the station
